Join our CMD in a marine environment - Alfa Laval style

Leaving the convenient hotel-based format behind - this year's capital markets day goes west, to our Marine Test & Training Center in Aalborg, Denmark.

Marine. Always a topic of interest. So – join us in Aalborg to experience some of the marine equipment for yourself. Have a look at a boiler, a gas combustion unit, a baby scrubber and listen to the experts directly. For instance, is connectivity a natural part of the portfolio going forward?

The day will include the usual business updates by our CEO and other members of group management, as well as seminars with a clear marine focus, such as marine environment, marine service and a guided tour of our test and training center.

Date: November 23
Time: 8 a.m. CET – 3 p.m. CET
Location: Alfa Laval Marine Test & Training Center in Aalborg, Denmark.

An official invitation will be sent out in a few weeks' time.

Logistics

Due to the logistics associated with travelling to Aalborg – and given the early start of the CMD - we recommend that you arrive the night/evening before, i.e. on November 22nd, and stay overnight in Aalborg.

We have compiled information about flights from London and Stockholm to Aalborg. You find this information on our website: www.alfalaval.com/investors.
